The business of the Stock Exchange this morning was light, and the movement without cim. Both factions appear to be waiting for further developmente of the financial policy of the Government, and for the reverberation from the other side of the affair with the Trent. There is no alarm in the market upon the latter subject, but the bulls are disposed to see the effect of the first blast of the British the previous one, and the corresponding time of 1860, as follows: the financial policy of the Government, if the rumors we have from Washington are correct, the Secretary of the Treasury will, in his report, recommend action which must bring about a serious disturbance in the currency of the country temporarily, but the war upon his currency and upon sales of Gov-ernment securities to the public. In this case the The annexed tables give the receipts and exports of issue of Government currency must be a very large leading articles of produce at this port: one, and money will become very plenty among the people. We presume the notes are to be made a legal tender, or they would hardly remain in the bands of the public long enough to be of much profit to the Government. Many of our bank officese are opposed to the scheme of the Secretary, and predict, if adopted, an immediate suspension of the banks. This course, however, would probably only lead to a further expansion of bank credits, making money more abundant. Between the Boards the market was firmer. This feeling continued at the Second Board until toward the close, when the quotations were weak, but without important change, excepting in Rock Island, which, after advancing to 532 on the announcement of a dividend, tell back again to 531. Central was firm at 772. In Government stocks there is not much doing, the Impendency of the Treasury Report having checked transactions. At the close the quotations were: United States 5s, '74, 821 283; United States 6s, '81, 481 2481; Missouri State 6s, 40 2401; Delaware and animal products, it will be seen, is even greater. Mr. Cisco has made an ther call on the banks-the ninth-of to per cent on the accord fifty millions of the 7.30 per cent loan, payable on Friday. The the new 6 per cent stock are being pushed puny, and the first installments of the notes will go to Washington for execution in two weeks. To morrow the American Company will send the first batch of the second fifty millions of Treasury Notes, dated October 1. This company have forwarded in the aggregate $29,000.000 of the demand notes, of which about $20,000,000 have been issued from the Department. The recemptions of these notes at the Sul-Treasury Land and have never been so low for a long period, and the door specific at 120,000,000 have been issued from the Department. The recemptions of these notes at the Sul-Treasury Land and have never been so low for a long period, and the door specific at 120,000,000 have been issued from the Department. The recemptions of these notes at the Sul-Treasury Land and La Sal-Tre surv here are about $200,000 per day, and these are paid out again when practicable. They bave, however, accumulated to about $950,000. The denominations of these notes are 5s, 10s, and 20s. The small denominations stay out longer than the 20s. The experiment proves conclusively that the Government could furnish the public with a useful currency, which will be par all over the loyal States, and save a large amount of interest and consequent taxation, which must be paid upon money borrowed in any other way.

The money market is abundantly supplied with capital, and on first-class securities it is freely offered at 5 $ cent by large lenders. The range is 5 27 $ cent. The business in the discount houses is limited by reason of the small supply of paper being made of leading character. This description goes at 627 w cent. For any other kind the rates are very irregular, and good names have sold at 829 & cent. The statements of the banks of the three principal cities of the Union for the last week compare with

The annexed remarks from Thompson's Reporter confirm the statements we have heretofore made in regard to the present earnings of our banks: regard to the present earnings of our banks:

It appears to a that our city bank shares are solling under heir intrinsic and prospective value. The banks and the Government are bound together. If the latter can continue the arm on spein payments, the banks are certainly doing well on the 100,000,000 of Treamy Notes and Bunds, bettiof which re earning more than 7 $\psi$ cont on cost. If the Government sits to sustain specie payments, the banks will suspend, and bent they will have a good time on paper money and credits in any event, the assets of the banks are of a character surer or dividends than in times of a commercial expansion and liability to be wiped out by a revulsion.

Money is as easy as ever. Any quartity can be had at 5 to 6 $\psi$ cent by strong names, either on easiler time. Outside rates ran up to 12 $\psi$ cent, but they almost always do hat on the "fancies." or out of the way securities; but the whole merket is doil, withis and without the banks. The latter held shout seven and a half millions of specie. They have paid flowerment $18,000,000 since August 20, and have received from Government about $9,000,000 for outside sales of 7.3-10 notes. On Saturday there was a brisk demmad for the longes, on Saturday there was a brisk demmad for the longes, and when the probable future of our foreign relations is well settled to the satisfaction of the timoreus, the demusal may be even more sative. Even at this dollest period, however, the Boston sales have averaged $200,000 to $200,000 per week. The Jennary dividends will be large, and a considerable portion of them will probably go fato the lean.

We quote the following from The Milwaukes Sen-reaching a point at which it is almost suicidal for the manufacturer to continue production after his stock is exhausted, and with the continued consumption of most articles of this character, scarcity must ensue. Having passed a period of twelve months of inactivity and prostration of trade, we are fast recovering our former position. One year since, our troubles began to be developed, and business in every department was gradually curtailed, nntil we reached a point when masterly inactivity prevailed, and ruin and bankruptey seemed inevitable to all.

Our stocks of goods, although not relatively large, appeared enormous in absence of demand, and prices ran down to a point scarcely ever reached. After a period of great gloom and depression the country gradually recuperated from the disasters of the day, and the demand for goods increased, while the production had almost entirely ceased. This conjunction of circumstances had their appropriate effects upon the market until supply and demand had become Saturday being the last day of the old banking law,

The repeal of the previsions of law adverse to the provisions of the set of 1857 did not repeal the statute under which the piaintiff claims, because so much of the act of 1857 as was unconstitutional and void was no law, and the repeal referred to did not include provisions which were in conflict with that part which was void. (Time act. The State, 26 Ala., 165.) We think, therefore, that Bouton was legally appointed a Clerk, notwithslanding the provisions of the Macropolitan Poluce est, and as such was entitled to recover.
